BEFORE & AFTERS

This client had a basement without order. The Mom was tired of continuously moving items around but getting nowhere. There was no proper storage for holiday décor, hunting gear, and other long term storage. With two young boys and their toys and no proper place for homework, the Dad and his prized trophies, and nowhere for Mom to sit and work, or to sit and relax, she decided to get help from Organize My Clutter. After purging items they no longer needed, we put the hunting gear and long term storage behind curtains to imitate walls, designated areas for each family member, re-purposed existing storage products and purchased more inexpensive storage solutions for better organization. Along with a few new accessory updates like slipcovers and rugs, they now have a useful basement to enjoy both individually and as a family.
